Core Course: Literary Criticism and Academic Writing

Course Description

The course helps the student recognize the historical, political and aesthetic dimensions of the growth of literary criticism. Issues such as canon formation, evolution of the genres and methods of literary analysis are discussed in the different modules. Concepts being discussed include classical western criticism from Aristotle Horace and Longinus, English Renaissance and neoclassical criticism, the 18th century trends, the Romantic revolt, the Victorian tradition, the new critics, Chicago school and the modernist movements, Eliot's critical positions, Psychoanalysis, myth criticism, Russian Formalism, Marxist criticism and Reader response theories. One module has been set apart for the study of academic writing which is expected to enhance the ability of the student to attempt critical appreciation, literary criticism, reviews, and other modes of academic writing.
