Event Report

Dr. Cheruvelil Endowment seminar was organised by the Department of English on 9th February 2018. News reporter Nisha Jeby talked on Reporting from Conflict Zones. The session was charted in the form of an open forum where the spokesperson Nisha Jeby engaged in a discussion with Mr. Shijo Varghese and Neethu S Kumar, faculty members of the Department of English. Dr Cheruvelil is an alumnus of this college during 1953 - 55. Although he has studied in Sacred Heart College for a short while, he considers her as his alma mater. During the session Mrs Nisha mentioned the difficulties in reporting from the conflict zones. Being one of the prominent reporters in Kerala, her real-life instances were thought provoking and reflected her intense passion towards the profession. She has also talked about the diverse opportunities for English Graduates in the field of journalism which has created a sense of interest and passion in the minds of both the Undergraduate and Postgraduate students who graced the session with their presence.

Dr. Cheruvelil Endowment Lecture 2018

FR. MELASIUH HALL 3 PM 9 FEBRUARY 2018, FRIDAY

Organised by the Dept of English

Dr. Joseph M. Cheruvelil
Dr. Joseph Cheruveli is an alumnus of the college during 1953-55. In 1960, he secured a scholarship, to continue his studies at Loyola University in Chicago, and the University of Mississippi. Thereafter, he became a teacher of English at St. John's University, New York, for 39 years. Although he has studied in the Sacred Heart College for a short while, he considers her as his alma mater. His work, A Passage to America: Notes of an Adopted Son published by XLIBRIS in 2016 is an insightful narrative of the immigrant experiences of the Indian diaspora of the 1960s. This endowment is his tribute to his alma mater.
