Event Report

The Department of English organised a one-day skill-based research seminar on 8th May 2016. Dr. C S Jayaram, former faculty of the department gave a lecture on Art and Literature. Dr. C S Francis, Head of the department of English introduced the speaker. Prof. Jayaram had drawn the parallels between painting, Cinema, music and literature. He remarked that since time immemorial, man has been driven by an epistemological quest for truth. He had given allusions like Hamlet’s wrestling with a continuous nudging doubt ‘to be or not to be’. He also cited Elizabeth Bennet and Darcy’s struggles to let go off debilitating feelings of pride and prejudice.

Criterion 3: Research, Innovations and Extension

His session was mainly centred on the interpretation of Art, music, and literature. He conveyed the message that artists are the ‘armchair activists. His paintings took the audience to different realms of literature. He introduced the theoretical side of both modernist and postmodern paintings. He also discussed modern art, and its transformation to 20th century contemporary art. The talk was attended by the PG and final year students of the department. Dr. Tom C Thomas, Assistant Professor of the department proposed the vote of thanks. There was a question answer session arranged at the end of the lecture. Many students appreciated the session and interacted with the speaker.
