English in Focus 3

English today is the most preferred language for international communication in various fields. It is also the most widely-used language on the Internet and in the media. It is, therefore, not surprising that excellent communication skills and sound knowledge of English are considered prerequisites for employment in many fields.

The series, English in Focus for undergraduate students, aims to develop their linguistic competence and to equip them with the skills required for academic and professional purposes.

The series adopts a holistic approach towards the teaching of English with an assortment of prose, poetry and short story selections, coupled with an extensive coverage of composition topics. The activity-oriented tasks ensure that the learning process is relevant, interesting and enjoyable.

Key features:

- A variety of reading texts
- Notes and questions to aid comprehension
- An exhaustive coverage of composition topics
- A functional approach to the learning of English

Aravind R. Nair is an Assistant Professor at Sacred Heart College, Mahatma Gandhi University, Kottayam, Kerala. He teaches undergraduate and postgraduate courses in English language and literature including Literary Criticism, Academic Writing and Informatics.

Anima Chakraverty has taught for over thirty-five years. Presently, she is teaching at Lucknow Christian Degree College. She has a large number of academic presentations and publications to her credit, along with two National Awards.
