Damages caused due to fire, thefts, riots, accidents, flood, earthquake, and other exceptional circumstances. For attending these exceptional cases, Align Infotech suggests that the CLIENT cover the machine by an Insurance policy.

This agreement does not make Align Infotech responsible for further interfaces, expansion or damage occurring due to it.

4) Period for service availability:

In the case of service of customers' site, service shall be rendered on all normal business working days and in working hours. Our business working hours shall be from 10 A.M to 6 P.M Monday to Saturday.

5) Procedures for Logging Faults & Complaints. On all business days, we will initiate one telephone enquiry with the person nominated to carry out the duties as IT Manager by our esteemed client. It will be our endeavor to close all complaints logged in at that time. In addition, the customer at anytime during our business hours may login complaints as and when it occurs. On attending and closing each fault, we will give a copy of call completion certificate to the customer's representative at the site. A summary of all closed and pending jobs will be email to our client on monthly basis.

6) Revision of service charges:

a) There shall not normally be any revision in the rates of the service charges during the current period of this contract. However, Align Infotech reserves the right to revise that rate at mutually agreeable terms after giving two months prior intimation. Such changes would come into force at the end of each service period unless this contract is specifically terminated by the customer, at the time the contract comes for automatic renewal.

b) Changes or enhancements in system features may result in an adjustment of the specified minimum service charges and shall be covered by separate annexure.

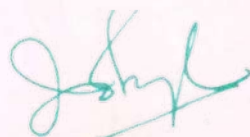

7) Payment terms:

Service charges under this contract will be invoiced Half in advance and are to be paid upon receipt. Any additional charges, on material not covered under Clause 2 (g), will be billed separately and immediately. If payment exceeds 30 days, no service will be performed until complete payment is received.

8) Change of location:

a) Relocation or shifting of the equipment shall be done by the customer at his own cost and risk. Any damages to the Equipment arising out of such relocation or shifting will not be covered under this contract. However, Align Infotech can provide this service of disconnection and reinstallation at additional nominal charge. Such activity will not form part of normal service and therefore is not included in the charges quoted here.

b) In the case of service at customers' site, customer shall take the prior written consent of Align Infotech before permanently relocating the equipment to be able to obtain the maintenance service at new location.
