One Day Training on Bloom's Taxonomy

Date: 15th September, 2015   Time: 9.00 am to 4.00 pm

BROCHURE

REPORT

Bloom's Taxonomy is a hierarchical ordering of cognitive skills that can, among countless other uses, help teachers teach and students learn. Many educators love Bloom's taxonomy because, among other virtues, it gives them a way to think about their teaching—and the subsequent learning of their students. Bloom's Taxonomy is a tier model of classifying thinking according to 6 cognitive domains. Each level has action verbs associated with the domain. The Taxonomy has been used as a guideline for creating objectives which show evidence of thinking skills beginning at the Lower Order Thinking Skills to the Higher Order Thinking Skills. In view of this the IQAC of Sacred Heart College, Thevara organized a training program on Bloom's taxonomy on 15th September, 2015.

The program started with a silent prayer. Joint coordinator of IQAC, Sacred Heart College, Thevara welcomed the participants and the resource person. He introduced the resource person to the participants and mentioned about the program. Rev. Fr. Prashant Palackappillil CMI, Principal, Sacred Heart College inaugurated the program and delivered the inaugural address. The resource person for the program was Dr. K. M. Johnson, IQAC Jt. coordinator, Sacred Heart College, Thevara.

In the technical session, Dr. Johnson explained about the historical aspects of Bloom's taxonomy. He then discussed the Benjamin Bloom's six levels of learning in a very interesting manner. In his lecture he presented a Power Point Presentation prepared specially for the requirement of the college keeping in mind the six levels of Learning according to Bloom's Taxonomy. During the session he made the participants to frame questions as sample on all six levels so that teachers can also use the same methodology in the classroom situation.

In the final session the participants congratulated the IQAC for taking initiatives to organize the program and shared their views about the program. Mrs. Agile Joy, IQAC Convener on behalf of all the participants proposed vote of thanks.

REPORT

Background

Teaching at the collegiate level is a wonderful yet complex career. The faculty members are expected to be organized, teach effectively, research thoroughly, write lucidly, publish often, serve as effective committee members, and maybe even serve as successful administrators. Every new faculty hire has the potential to become a better teacher, researcher, writer, and administrator. Helping them reach their potential is the great challenge of creating and maintaining an effective mentoring program. Because effective mentoring increases the likelihood that faculty members will be successful, designing and implementing a robust mentoring program is an essential part of a faculty development program. The IQAC of Sacred Heart College, Thevara organized a training program for the faculty members on Mentoring on December 10th, 2015.

Dr. K.M Johnson, IQAC Jt. coordinator of Sacred Heart College, Thevara welcomed the participants and the resource person. The resource persons for the program Rev. Fr. Prashant Palackappillil CMI, Principal, Sacred Heart College, Thevara

In the technical session, Fr. Prashant mentioned that most often, the faculty members may not have received formal training in mentorship or they mentor students based on their teaching experience. Therefore, the training of faculty on mentorship will not only enhance faculty's knowledge and skills in mentorship but also ensure the quality of the mentorship provided to the students which is among the prime requirements for the growth of the institution.

He pointed that working with a mentor can be an invaluable experience for both mentor and mentee. They will likely learn new things about themselves and each other that will help them move toward career goals He highlighted the "lack of mentorship" as one of the major barriers to both starting and finishing scholarly projects. During his lecture, Fr. Prashant stressed on the need for a more structured approach to faculty mentoring. He then discussed about the characteristics of effective mentors, maintaining the mentoring relationship and generational issues and mentoring. Finally he conclude his session by mentioned that faculty mentoring influences not just the success of individual faculty, but the intellectual culture and achievement of the entire unit.

In the concluding session the participants congratulated the IQAC for taking initiatives to organize the program and shared their views about the program. The program concluded with a vote of thanks by the IQAC Convener.

Research Process
Plagiarism

Mr. Jasimudeen S
Librarian
St. Stephen's College, Uzhavoor

18 February, 2016

*Organized by IQAC,
Sacred Heart College (Autonomous), Thevara*

REPORT

Background

A deeper understanding about the process of research is important towards achieving a systematic research. Likewise writing a research paper poses challenges in gathering literature and providing evidence for making your paper stronger. Drawing upon previously established ideas and values and adding pertinent information in your paper are necessary steps, but these need to be done with caution without falling into the trap of plagiarism. Plagiarism is the unethical practice of using words or ideas (either planned or accidental) of another author/researcher or your own previous works without proper acknowledgment. Considered as a serious academic and intellectual offense, plagiarism can result in highly negative consequences such as paper retractions and loss of author credibility and reputation. It is currently a grave problem in academic publishing and a major reason for paper retractions.

As an awareness to the researchers about this the IQAC of Sacred Heart College (Autonomous), Thevara organized a workshop on "Research Process & Plagiarism" on 18th February 2016 at Sacred Heart College (Autonomous), Thevara to offer practical guidelines and direct the researchers through all the stages of research from identifying a research problem to the submission of a dissertation, report writing and research article.

Inaugural Session

The program started with a silent prayer. Dr. M.S. Francis, HoD of Botany, Sacred Heart College, Thevara welcomed the participants and the resource person. He introduced the resource person and spoke about the importance of this workshop for the research scholars and academic community. Rev. Fr. Prashant Palackappillil CMI, Principal, Sacred Heart College, inaugurated the program and delivered the inaugural address. In his inaugural address, Fr. Prashant mentioned about the importance of research and the proper understanding of research. He emphasized about the ethics to be followed in research. The resource person for the program was Mr. Jasimudeen S, Librarian, St. Stephen's College, Uzhavoor.

Technical Session

Session 1

In the first session Mr. Jasimudeen discussed about the conceptual understanding of research and introduced the participants about conceptual clarity in the process of research and the six steps to be undertaken while pursuing research. He pointed out the practical problems of research scholars in doing a research.

Session 2

In the second session Mr. Jasimudeen discussed about what plagiarism is and what are the different forms of plagiarism citing some real life examples. He urged the participants to avoid plagiarism as it would not only makes us an original writer but would improve the lucidity and quality of our writing.

The workshop ended with a vote of thanks by IQAC Joint Coordinator. He extended his expression of gratitude to all who contributed for the realization of the workshop.
